Glensford Parish Council 01787 282740

Glensford Fun Day

The ever successful Fun Day will be held on 23rd June 2007 this year.

If you would like to get involved or have any ideas for attractions, please contact the Clerk on 01787 282740 and she will pass your details on to the organizers.

The event has proved to be very successful over the past few years and this is due to Joan Love and Dawn Biscoe who put so much hard work into the event, so a big thanks to them from the Council!

Parish Council Office Hours

The Parish Council office is open from 9.30am to 12.30pm each week day. If you need to leave a message outside of office hours, you can do this on the answer machine.

If you wish to view any plans that the Council will be discussing at the next meeting, please be aware that these can ONLY be viewed during the hours of 9am to 5pm WEEKDAYS.

Streetlighting

If you have a street light near you that has developed a fault, please report this to the parish council office and the clerk will report this to the maintenance engineers. Please be aware that the Parish Council do not undertake this work themselves, we only report the faults, and sometimes they can take a while to be repaired. We would normally expect repairs to be undertaken within a week, so if they are not, please let the Clerk know.

Vandalism and other crime

The Parish Council will not tolerate any vandalism in the village. Last year vandalism cost you the ratepayer, eleven thousand pounds so we would urge you that if you see anything or anyone causing damage in the village, that this must be reported immediately to the police. Whilst the Council appreciate calls informing us of damage, we would like to make it clear that if you have witnessed a crime, YOU need to call the police, we can not do it for you. If more of you report things that you see, we will get results. We have taken out private prosecutions in the past, and will do so again if we have no results from the police.

Parish Council Meetings 2007-2008

The Parish Council hold their meetings at 7pm in the Village Hall on a Tuesday evening each month. If you would like to attend please feel free. Members of the public are permitted to speak in public question time.

Inside Story Headline

This story can fit 150-200 words.

One benefit of using your newsletter as a promotional tool is that you can reuse content from other marketing materials, such as press releases, market studies, and reports.

While your main goal of distributing a newsletter might be to sell your product or service, the key to a successful newsletter is making it useful to your readers.

A great way to add useful content to your newsletter is to develop and write your own articles, or include a calendar of upcoming events or a special offer that promotes a new product.

You can also research articles or find “filler” articles by accessing the World Wide Web. You can write about a variety of topics but try to keep your articles short.

Much of the content you put in your newsletter can also be used for your Web site. Microsoft Publisher offers a simple way to convert your newsletter to a Web publication. So, when you’re finished writing your newsletter, convert it to a Web site and post it.

Inside Story Headline

This story can fit 100-150 words.

The subject matter that appears in newsletters is virtually endless. You can include stories that focus on current technologies or innovations in your field.

You may also want to note business or economic trends, or make predictions for your customers or clients.

If the newsletter is distributed internally, you might comment upon new procedures or improvements to the business. Sales figures or earnings will show how your business is growing.

Some newsletters include a column that is updated every issue, for instance, an advice column, a book review, a letter from the president, or an editorial. You can also profile new employees or top customers or vendors.

“To catch the reader's attention, place an interesting sentence or quote from the story here.”

Inside Story Headline

This story can fit 75-125 words.

Selecting pictures or graphics is an important part of adding content to your newsletter.

Think about your article and ask yourself if the picture supports or enhances the message you’re trying to convey. Avoid selecting images that appear to be out of context.

Microsoft Publisher includes thousands of clip art images from which you can choose and import into your newsletter. There are also several tools you can use to draw shapes and symbols.

Once you have chosen an image, place it close to the article. Be sure to place the caption of the image near the image.

Organization

This would be a good place to insert a short paragraph about your organization. It might include the purpose of the organization, its mission, founding date, and a brief history. You could also include a brief list of the types of products, services, or programs your organization offers, the geographic area covered (for example, western U.S. or European markets), and a profile of the types of customers or members served.

It would also be useful to include a contact name for readers who want more information about the organization.

Back Page Story Headline

This story can fit 175-225 words.

If your newsletter is folded and mailed, this story will appear on the back. So, it's a good idea to make it easy to read at a glance.

A question and answer session is a good way to quickly capture the attention of readers. You can either compile questions that you've received since the last edition or you can summarize some generic questions that are frequently asked about your organization.

A listing of names and titles of managers in your organization is a good way to give your newsletter a personal touch. If your organization is small, you may want to list the names of all employees.

If you have any prices of standard products or services, you can include a listing of those here. You may want to refer your readers to any other forms of communication that you've created for your organization.

You can also use this space to remind readers to mark their calendars for a regular event, such as a breakfast meeting for vendors every third Tuesday of the month, or a biannual charity auction.

If space is available, this is a good place to insert a clip art image or some other graphic.
